The Loop Trail Network was constructed by Squamish Access Society, the rock climbers' advocacy group, with extensive volunteer help over an eight year period. The original objective was to improve climbers' access to existing and newly-developed cliffs in the park. However the trail is an excellent hike in its own right with several scenic viewpoints. If you choose to follow it, please note that it was built to a climbers' standard and contains steep and rough sections. USE IT AT YOUR OWN RISK!
